Howard and Dr. James H. Cloud, President Arthur L. Roberts, Dr. Thomas F. Fox, Chairman, the late Dr. John B. Hotchkiss, Professor Harley D. Drake, and John O'Rourke, and the activities of the alumni "Chip" fund committee under the chairmanship of James A. Sullivan, which raised over $800, and we hereby thank all of the collectors and contributors to the fund.

DANIEL C. FRENCH

THE COMBINED SYSTEM

Resolved, That we, graduates and former pupils of the American School for the Deaf, West Hartford, Connecticut, assembled at our reunion in connection with the unveiling of the replica of the Gallaudet monument, which shows the founder of instruction for the deaf in this country teaching the manual alphabet to the first deaf child in the American School, cannot at this occasion pass without reaffirming our adherence to the Combined System of instruction, which wisely and humanely adapts the method to the needs of the deaf child and not the child to the method.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF

WHEREAS, This celebration is under the auspices of the National Association of the Deaf, the champion of the deaf everywhere in their fights for their rights, and

WHEREAS, The good that the N. A. D. can do is only limited by its financial support, and

WHEREAS, The N. A. D. is now engaged in a special drive for ten dollar memberships, the price of a day's measure; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we approve the work of the N. A. D. and promise to assist the organizer for New England, Michael L. Lapes, in securing life and annual memberships for the N. A. D., and put New England where it belongs as a loyal supporter of the National Association of the Deaf.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

WHEREAS, We have watched with interest and appreciation the goodly number of young men and women who have entered Gallaudet College from the American School and who have made creditable records in these more advanced institutions of learning; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we congratulate Principal Frank R. Wheeler and his staff on their success in arousing a zeal for higher education in the graduates of the school.

EDWARD MINER GALLAUDET MEMORIAL FUND

WHEREAS, Edward Miner Gallaudet, the youngest son of Dr. Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, the founder of the only college for the deaf in the world, was a teacher in the American School in the year 1856-1857, and

WHEREAS, Over $11,000 have been contributed to a memorial in his honor at Gallaudet College; and

NEW ENGLAND HOME FOR THE AGED DEAF

WHEREAS, the New England Home for the Aged Deaf after a long and invaluable service to the deaf of the community has entered on a new period of usefulness at

WHEREAS, The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Board of Trustees, Mr. and Mrs. Hussey, of Salem, Massachusetts, Mr. A. B. Meacham, President of the New England Gallaudet Association and his co-operating committee on the Old Home building fund, and Daniel Nicholas, of Lynn, have labored earnestly for this successful outcome, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we are very grateful to those named in particular and to all those who have helped the Home any way, and we urge continuous hearty support of this most worthy institution, and suggest that it be remembered generously by bequests from those in a position to do so.

WHEREAS, Connecticut has within its borders a modest, unassuming deaf young man who possesses a keen mind, untiring energy and a genius for leadership and who holds his own in contact with the brightest intellects of the state, and

WHEREAS, In everything that concerns the welfare of the deaf, he is found in the front ranks battling courageously and oftentimes successfully for the protection of the best interests of the deaf; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we acclaim Michael Lapes, of New Haven, as a most distinguished graduate of the American School for the Deaf, of whom we are very proud, and we joyfully pledge our support to this versatile and fearless champion of the deaf of the commonwealth Connecticut.

WHEREAS, The N. F. S. D. by conservative management has become of great assistance to its members in time of need, therefore, be it Resolved, That we commend the work of the N. F. S. D. as filling a real need in the lives of the deaf.

WHEREAS, Since our last meeting, Reverend George H. Hefflon, beloved pastor of the deaf in Southern New England, has gone to his reward, and

WHEREAS, By his kindly ministrations and self-sacrificing spirit, he endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact, therefore, be it

Resolved, That while we mourn our loss, we are grateful for his noble Christian example and for the privilege of his wise counsel and valued fellowship.

WHEREAS, The tendency in the United States is to classify schools for the deaf with educational establishments rather than with charitable institutions there, be it

Resolved, That we urge the authorities of Connecticut, in which state the first permanent school for the deaf was founded more than a century ago, to remove the American School from the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Welfare and place it under the State Board of Education, to which classification it rightly belongs.

THE HARTFORD UNVEILING

DEAR SIR:—The appended communications, recently received, are of such general interest that they are offered to the JOURNAL for solution.

THOMAS F. FOX, Chairman.
Gallaudet Monument Replica Com.

DULVERTON, SOMERSETSHIRE, ENG.
20th of Sept., 1925.

MY DEAR MR. FOX:—I am so sorry, your letter to me of August 6th, about the unveiling in Hartford of the statue of our grandfather, reached me too late for any suggestions not until the event was over, did it arrive. My trip to England was all arranged before I knew of the date for the unveiling, and I had arranged with President Wheeler in Hartford that my cousin in Wethersfield, Conn., Mrs. Alice Gallaudet, Trumbull Sparhawk, should represent me and my branch of the family on September 7th. As per agreement I wrote a letter of regret to Mr. Drake, to be read at that time.

I fear my silence was upsetting to your plans, and only hope you were able to get Miss Elinor Sherman for the unveiling. It happened at a most unfortunate season for our branch as I found all my brothers were to be away on their vacation. I myself was greatly disappointed not to be present, for I have appreciated the labors of the Statue committee, these years and all their labour of love to carry out what I knew was a dream of my dear father.

When I sailed July 25th, I thought I had safeguarded any such slip, and I hope you will pardon the apparent disloyalty.

I have been here a few days, am returning shortly to Hampstead, near London, where I have been all summer, sailing for New York, October 3d, on the Minnehaha, Atlantic Transport. Hoping to see you next time you are in Hartford. I am most warmly and regretfully yours, KATHERINE FRESSENDER GALLAUDET, 9 Gillett Street, HARTFORD, CT.

WATERBURY, CT., SEP. 28, 1925.

DEAR FRIENDS:—May I acknowledge at this late date, your very kind invitation to be present at the unveiling of the Gallaudet Replica on September seventh?

The invitation finally reached me in camp at Squaw Lake, New Hampshire, too late to send you any word before the event. I wish very much Mrs. Gallaudet and I might have been present. Unfortunately a long period of ill health last Spring made it necessary for me to lay aside all other plans and devote the entire summer to the slow task of getting well again. We only came down from the mountains last week, and I am now writing this belated word just so you may not think your kind invitation was entirely unappreciated, which was very far from being the actual case.

Sincerely Yours,
HERBERT D. GALLAUDET.

REPLICA PEDESTAL CARVINGS
THE JOURNAL of September 17th, reports that the pedestal of the replica of the Gallaudet statue recently unveiled at Hartford has lettering as follows:

Front:
"Friend, Teacher, Benefactor."

Right side:
"Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, L.L.D., born in Philadelphia, December 10th, 1787, founded at Hartford, the First School for the Deaf in America, died at Hartford, September 10, 1851."

So far good.

"To replace monument erected in 1854 on the original site of the first American School."

We think this is a misstatement of fact. The replica replaces nothing. The fund was started with the view of repairing the monument erected on the original site. The school authorities refused to permit the original monument to be erected on the site of the new school at West Hartford. That was the end of the original monument erected in 1854. The offer of a replica of the Gallaudet statue at Washington was made and accepted. As such, it was unveiled September 7th. The statue at Washington and the replica at Hartford, are gifts of the National Association of the Deaf. No lettering on the replica pedestal indicates the source of the gift. That is a grave omission.

The lettering on the back of the pedestal is as follows:

COMMITTEE

President A. L. Robert, Ex-Officio
Thomas E. Fox
John B. Hotchkiss

Chairmen

Harley D. Drake
John O'Rourke

President of what? Committee of what? The pedestal does not say. The next generation will be asking these questions in gaping wonder, and will seek the answers in vain insofar as the replica outfit is concerned. Future generations may conclude that the statue is the gift of a self-appointed committee.

The pedestal of the original statue at Washington quite properly bears no committee names. True they were originally, there but were quickly removed in deference to public sentiment. If committee names are off the original they are far less appropriate in connection with the replica. The accident of office at the completion of the memorial fund, is no reason for a perpetual memorial to Messrs. Roberts, Fox, Hotchkiss, Drake and O'Rourke. The obvious intention of contributors to the fund was that replica be a memorial to Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet and to no one else. The lettering on the left side of the pedestal leaves much to be desired. The lettering on the back is wholly unwarranted and should be eliminated. If this is not done within a reasonably short time, the deaf of America may well call a halt in the way of donations for any memorial to be erected under the auspices of the National Association of the Deaf, since there is no assurance that the Association will be given due credit or that the memorial will accomplish its single objective.

Obviate the lettering on the back of the pedestal and substitute something to this effect:

Presented to the American School for the Deaf by the National Association for the Deaf.

JAMES H. CLOUD.
St. Louis, Sept. 21, 1925.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF AND ITS NEEDS AND OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL: The great trouble with the National Association of the Deaf is the deaf people's indifference to its needs and their failure to co-operate with its officers in their work.

The Association has lost ground immeasurably, for no other reason than its lack of leadership and of organization. The habit of waiting until the next convention and then proceed with the work is fatal. We call ourselves the greatest nation on earth, and yet we act exactly like the man in one of our national jokes—the man met by the Arkansas Traveller, who wouldn't mend his roof in the rain, and refused to mend it in dry weather, because then it did not leak.

Lack of interest in the N. A. D. is due to ignorance of the purpose of that organization and to little being done. I believe that if the N. A. D. would send its independent newspaper to every member, telling of actual work being done for the deaf, it would become a powerful organization. The pitiful lack of adequate financial support is one of the causes of the weak organization.

There is an urgent need of better understanding between the deaf and the N. A. D. The needs of the Association are so great and the opportunities so great, that it is time for the Association to lay broad plans for constructive growth. We have a bright future before us if we plan for it, and then all the branches (State Associations for the deaf) concentrate in working out our plans. All the forces of the Association must be directed towards one ideal—constructive growth and strength. This can be accomplished, if all will strive in a united way to keep the Association in line with present day progress. Now is the time to act.

The prime needs of the N. A. D. are aggressive leadership; a building up of the membership—not by fits and starts or convention spurts, but by steady efforts; the publishing of anti-progressive oral propaganda; the showing up of the inconsistencies of heads of schools; a following up of erroneous press notices concerning the deaf and their education, and the devising of ways and means for establishing a periodical truly and ably representative of the deaf point of view touching matters of first importance.

It indicates very much that first, last and always, we need a real leader to head the organization. We don't want a mere politician, who is in it for the glory he can get out of it.

Next, we need the By-Laws of the N. A. D. brought up to date. The Committee on Laws, of which Messrs. J. W. Howson, of California, and J. H. McFarlane, of Alabama, were members, did the job very well, but as I have said in print, the Secretary (now president) never made the report of that Committee at the Atlanta Convention. Some of the amendments may not have been agreeable to his notions, but that was no excuse. It is the secretary's business to deliver reports and let the convention either accept or reject them.

There should be a change in the voting system of the N. A. D. As it stands now, any member of the Association can get as many proxies of absent members as they want, and cast them for any candidate for office, regardless of whether the candidate is qualified for office or not. We believe that this voting system gives the members too much latitude and power. The president and secretary of the Association could get all the proxies, if they desired to be re-elected, and as they have the up-to-date mailing list of the members, they are supposed to control the distribution of blanks.

It is of the opinion of many of the members that proxy voting should be abolished, and a return made either to sending the vote by mail or the old time way of voting in conventions.

One of the weakest points of the N. A. D., is the scarcity of workers and this represents its great need. The situation really demands serious consideration.

One of the most important problems that confronts the Association is how to raise funds with which it may carry on its work. It is true that the deaf people are wasting money in a blundering use of funds and getting nothing for something. The N. A. D. and the State Associations of the deaf are guilty of it.

I am of the opinion that it would be a good thing to have a carefully selected Board with representation from every State—have this Board incorporated as a self-perpetuating body—when one member dies or resigns or gets out, the vacancy to be filled by the remaining members. Have this Board appoint—either from their own membership or from outside—an Editorial Board to attend to the propaganda side. This Board could build up a fund for "warfare and defense," and also get funds to maintain the magazine. This would insure able direction, and oversight. It could praise or criticize the N. A. D., or any other organization or individual, without fear or favor and would not be used for any one's personal ends. It can be done, I sincerely believe.

This Board would command national and general confidence and support. Once the proposition is presented to the public. I think hearing friends and relatives of the deaf would help, and in time bequests and donations would swell the sum up to the practical working point.

A great deal of real good could be accomplished for the deaf if they would work together for the common good of all. The N. A. D. will lose a splendid opportunity to render a service to the deaf and to the entire country as well, if it does not build upon constructive principles for which it stands. So it narrows down to the point of being "up to" the deaf themselves.

I desire to say that there is no personal feeling existing between the officers of the N. A. D. and myself, and as a member of this Association, I felt it my duty to call the attention of the members to the defects of the Association and offer suggestions to help solve, to some extent, the problems of the deaf.

There are too many persons holding a pessimistic opinion of the future of the N. A. D. We should be optimistic. We are all agreed that optimism is better for our physical, spiritual and mental health, as individuals and collectively; that pessimism is positively harmful, hurtful. But one may express the hope that calling attention to our shortcomings on occasion to better insure the remedying of defects, and as a reminder that we have not reached perfection should not be accounted pessimism. This is an age of improvement and progress.

TORONTO TIDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Roman won first prize on his exhibit of hand-made basketry at the Canadian National Exhibition, which was a signal honor, as Mr. Roman is not only deaf, but totally blind as well.

Mrs. Andrew S. Waggoner, of Hamilton, was in the city, visiting friends on September 16th.

Mr. James Ross, of the Post Office Department, left on September 19th, on his three weeks' annual vacation. He first went to Bracebridge for a short visit to his sister, then on a jaunt to Detroit and some other points.

Mrs. William Phillips, of Lisle, was in the city visiting friends for a few days lately and taking in our big annual fair.

Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, of Fredericton, N. B., stopped over for a few days with her brother, Mr. Charles J. Pettiford, in this city, while en route to Kansas City, where she will make her new home.

Mrs. Walter Breen, of Hamilton, was in our midst for several days lately renewing old friendships. She and her family formerly lived here.

Messrs. John Marshall, George Goulding and Charles McLaughlin, motored up to Sutton West on September 20th, to see their young friend, Mr. James Tate.

All who were at the station on September 16th, to see the young scholars depart for school, were delighted to meet those two veteran teachers, Professors W. J. Campell and Geo S. Stewart, who are held in high esteem by the deaf everywhere, on account of the warm interest they take in the deaf. Taking a casual glance at them, we do not think "Father Time" has been harassing them to any great degree. Mr. Stewart is the well known and versatile editor of the Canadian, while in the opinion of many Mr. Campell would make an ideal candidate for Parliamentary honors. Long may they be spared.

Miss Bessie Ball, of Highland Park, Detroit, left for home on September 23d, after a fortnight's visit with friends here. We were glad to meet her, who was a resident of this city in the long ago. She has a habit of making a periodical visit to us.

Mrs. H. W. Roberts went out to Woodbridge on September 22d, to visit her parents and other relatives, and returned home on the 24th.

Mr. Howard J. Lloyd accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd and children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Lloyd, all of Brantford, motored down to this city to visit relatives and friends on September 20th. In the afternoon, Howard Lloyd occupied the platform at our service, and gave a very forceful and intelligent address on "Work." Mrs. Harry E. Grooms graceful rendered "All Hail the Name of Jesus." Mrs. Ellsworth Bowman accompanied the Lloyds back to Brantford, where she spent a week at her old home.

Miss Ada James, of the teaching staff of the Belleville School, was a guest at "Mora Glen," and also with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Watt, recently. Come again, Ada.

Mrs. Alex. B. McCaul and daughter returned home from Chesley on September 11th, after a month's visit at the former's old home.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley was out to Cheapside for a few days lately, and called to see Norman Buckley in Silkkirk before returning home.

Mr. Henry White was out to see the beauties of Niagara Falls for a couple of days lately.

Mr. Robert Ensminger enjoyed a week's pleasant vacation with his sister, Mrs. Fred Perry, in Burlington and also at Niagara Falls.

The bobbed hair fashion king is still marching on and gaining recruits. Mrs. H. W. Roberts is one of the latest to meet his prowess and fall by the wayside.

Miss Margaret Golds has gone to her old home in Kitchener, where she may remain for a while, at least for the present.

GENERAL GLEANING

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Middleton, of Horning Mills, accompanied by their guest, Miss Maude McKee, of Tiverton, were recently in Singhampton, visiting Mr. John Taylor, who returned with them and spent a few days with the Middletons.

Miss Leona Jackson, of Oil Springs, was lately out to see her schoolmate, Miss Alice Lockie, in Courtwright, for a few days.

Mrs. John Watt, of Guelph, went to Toronto on September 15th, to pay her son, Mr. William R. Watt, a farewell visit, then left for Portland Oregon, to live with her married daughter, Mrs. Jarrott.

A very happy and large gathering of deaf friends took place on September 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. B. Beard, in Beeton, when Mr. Charles A. Elliott, of Toronto, enlivened them with a couple of useful talks on the Living Word. Those who came from outside points were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowen and son, Roy and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Avarell, of Cookstown; Mr. and Mrs. David Lennox and Ernest A. Lawson, of Phelpsston; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dickson, of Fraserburg; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones, of Palgrave; Mrs. William Phillips, of Lisle; Mrs. Harry Mason, of Nobleton, and Miss Betty Lawrence, of Newton Robinson. The services were much enlivened by lovely chanted hymns by Mesdames Jones, Bowen, Avarell, Dickson and Mason, alternately.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Charles Rissell, of LaSalle, Ill., has bought a lot in Angeles Mesa and will move there in a few months. His hearing brother conducts a small animal hospital on Redondo Boulevard in Inglewood.

Mrs. Jessie Livingston Hollinger and the two girls will return October 1st from their six months' visit up north with relatives and friends. William Watts brings greetings to me from Kraus in Toledo, Ohio, and reminders of the good old days. Watts has got me mixed with Big Jawn down in Louisville. I left Ohio in 1901, and have not seen Kraus (if he is my classmate) since 1922.

Henry Dahl has a new Chevrolet. He is entitled to the car and the enjoyment of viewing the wonderful scenery hereabouts. He may quit Los Angeles City service after a quarter century as a white angel, and looking after white angels of Leghorns.

Andy Genner came down in his car from Salt Lake City to Northern California. The trip over desert and mountain was too much for the auto, which gave up the ghost. He has secured a floor job on the Evening Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolverton, from Fresno, have rented a house in Los Angeles. Mr. Woolverton works in a laundry.

Mrs. Coffman was surprised September 1st, for her birthday, September 2d. Many useful presents were given, and fifty-four guests crowded the house.

Lynn Westcott was thrown out of an auto driven by a hearing friend. Injuries to the skull brought death. Mrs. Westcott and the three girls will move to Oakland after selling the property here.

Deaf-mutes are eligible to a chauffeur's license in California, if they pass tests demanded of hearing applicants and use rear-view mirrors on the car.

Russell Handley has blossomed out into a broker. His card bears these words: Insurance-Bonds,—"anything in the insurance line."

Mr. Lipsett and Miss Cooper have announced their intention to marry. Miss Cora Heitsman received a nice bridal shower of silver recently from her friends. She goes East next month and will be married soon after her arrival, to Mr. J. Sullivan of the Hartford School.

I have not had word from my folks since last March, and am not sure they are above ground.

Everybody Welcome.

Sundry Notes.

On the 19th, Mrs. Morton Henry was hostess at the regular quarterly meeting of the O. W. L. S.—the Chicago Chapter of the Gallaudet College Sorority. Miss Elizabeth Peet was the outstanding attraction, giving an interesting talk on the scholarship fund, and news of the many ex-colleagues she had met on her vacations tour of the country. She was presented with a box of bon-bons, surmounted with a two-inch metal owl, ribbon-tied, accompanied by this acrostic:
Pleasant and princely, proficient and practical—
Eagerly, earnestly, year after year,
Expendings to Co-eds what's socially tactical—
Taste of your triumph! Your fiedgelings are here!

Gallaudet College

The Columbia Institution for the Deaf, of which Gallaudet College is the advanced department, began the 1925-26 school year on September 24th, with several changes in the faculty, and with an enrollment in the college preparatory department of 28 men and 19 women students.

FACULTY CHANGES.

Mr. Oscar Guire, assistant in Mathematics, and Miss Helen Pence, Latin and English instructor, have both resigned. Mr. Stahl Butler, of last year's normal class, is now instructor in Preparatory English and History, taking the place of Mr. J. W. Blattner, Jr., now teaching in the Kendall School.

THE KENDALL SCHOOL.

Mr. Sam B. Craig, assistant in Mathematics, is now principal of the Kendall School. Former Principal Elstad, and Mrs. Elstad, who taught mechanical drawing and applied art in college last year, have left to accept positions in the Wright Oral School. Miss Thompson has taken Mrs. Elstad's place. Miss Moss and Miss Whildin have resigned. Raymond Dunn is teaching Miss Whildin's class.

SPORTS

In the world of sport, football holds the center of the stage at Gallaudet, and the whole college, from the rawest "prep." to the members of the faculty, follow with closest interest the fortunes of the Kendall Green gridiron gladiators.

The Washington institution has turned out many a good team in years past, but it is doubtful if any ever excelled that developed last season by Coach Hughes. As the reader probably knows, the silent collegians were defeated only once out of seven games played, and that by Bucknell University, a school with a student enrollment of 3,000 to 4,000, thus providing an almost unlimited amount of raw material from which to make a team. Gallaudet has a total student enrollment of only about 125, and of these, for one reason or another, only about 30 can be considered real or potential football players. Of the remainder, many are too light to be put into the line against heavy college elephants; in fact, many of the younger men would hardly be considered hefty enough for a good high school team.

Others, particularly the newer students, are kept too busy with their school work to get out for much practice, while several really good men, men who have the weight, speed and experience to make them a valuable acquisition to any team, are unable to because of physical disabilities. Nevertheless, the Kendall Greeners made a record for themselves last season. The games and scores were as follows:

GALLAUDET	SCORE	OPPONENTS
6	Bucknell University	39
7	St. John's College	6
13	Lynchburg College	0
39	Drexel Institute	0
20	Randolph-Macon College	7
0	Loyola College	0
28	St. Joseph's College	0

Of the above named opponents, it is needless to say all are hearing colleges, and—something that may escape the reader's notice—every one of them has a student body at least twice the size of Gallaudet. The silents from the Capital City proved themselves gridmen of no mean calibre last year, and bid fair to do so again this year.

1925 SEASON JUST STARTED

Due to the fact that college did not open this year until September 24th, the work of whipping the team into shape was rather late in getting started. Coach Hughes—who, by the way, has the distinction of being the only deaf college coach in the country—finds the back-field weakened by the loss of several of his veteran players. Of experienced men from last year, Captain Rose, from Missouri, and Byouk, from Colorado, are the only ones now available. However, there are several promising men from the subs. of last year. Scarvie, from Iowa gives every indication of having in him the stuff that makes good players; Miller, from Ohio, promises to develop into a very good man for right half back; Riding, also from Missouri is being tried out for Pucci's place as center. Krauss, from Ohio, also looks like good center material, but can play other line positions as well.

This year's team, on the whole, is rather light, the average weight being around 165 pounds, but to offset this, the players are fast and mentally alert. Not many opportunities for play will escape them.

COLLEGE

The schedule for season of 1925 is as follows:

Oct. 3—Blue Ridge at Washington.
Oct. 10—Fordham University at New York.
Oct. 17—Albright College at Myerstown, Pa.
Oct. 24—Carson-Newman College at Morristown, Tenn.
Oct. 31—St. Johns College at Annapolis, Md.
Nov. 7—Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa.
Nov. 14—Loyola College at Baltimore.
Nov. 21—Catholic University at Washington.

From the above, it can be seen that the Kendall Greeners have a heavy season ahead. Fordham, played next Saturday at New York City, is probably their most formidable opponent, since it has a student body of nearly 8000, but the others have the reputation of putting up a stiff game also. On the whole, it promises to be an interesting season.

BUFF AND BLUE LOSE FIRST GAME.

In the first game of the season, played last Saturday (October 3d) with Blue Ridge College, the Gallaudet team lost, 20 to 6. This, incidentally, is the only game the silent will play on their home grounds.

Rose, Byouk and Miller did most of the work for Gallaudet; Miller, by receiving a pass from Byouk behind the line, gave Gallaudet her only score. Among the visitors, Slaughter, Hoenstein and Curran did the scoring, Slaughter putting over the ball twice by drop-kicks, and Hoenstein and Curran taking it through once each by line plunges.

The line-up was:

GALLAUDET	POSITION	BLUE RIDGE
Killian	L. E.	Heber
Johnson	L. T.	E. Soyster
Young	L. G.	Krann
Riding	Center	Couden
Krauss	R. G.	P. Soyster
Baumann	R. T.	Peterson
Kaercher	R. E.	West
Rose (Capt.)	Q. B.	Slaughter
Byouk	L. H. B.	Hoenstein
C. Miller	R. H. B.	Miller (Capt.)
Scarvie	F. B.	Michaels

Score by periods:
GALLAUDET 0 0 0 0—6
BLUE RIDGE 3 0 3 14—20

NOTES

Mr. Benjamin Yaffey, '25, dropped in to see the boys last Sunday. He was on his way to Philadelphia, where he expects to study pharmacy in the University of Pennsylvania.

Messrs. Kelly Stevens, '20, and John Boatwright, '24, were visitors at Kendall Green last June. Mr. Stevens is teaching art, and Mr. Boatwright is Physical Director at the New Jersey School for the Deaf. The former went to his old home in Texas after leaving Washington, and the latter left for the West.

Miss Helen W. Pence, formerly on the faculty of Gallaudet College, left early in September for Fulton, Mo., where she has accepted a position. She spent a few days with relatives at Geneva, Ohio, while en route.

Miss Elizabeth Drake, daughter of Professor Drake of the English department, returned last July from Ohio, where she has been attending high school. It is said that she will enter Wilson Normal this fall.

Eugene McConnell, '24, is back in Washington after having taken a six-weeks course at the Milo Bennett Linotype School, in Toledo, O.

Among the latest members of the faculty to join the Auto Club, are Professors F. H. Hughes and I. S. Fushfeld. Both are driving new Dodge cars.

The first faculty lecture for the current year was delivered last Sunday by Dr. Ely. His subject was "Science and Belief in God."

Dr. Hall sailed for Europe during the third week of July to attend the World Congress of Superintendents and Instructors of the Deaf. On the return voyage, he was accompanied by his son, who has been studying at Paris University. Because of the young man's brilliant scholastic record, he received his degree one year in advance of his class.

Professor Edith M. Nelson, Librarian and instructor in Latin at Gallaudet, visited relatives in California during the summer vacation.

Oliver McInturf is now located in Bound Brook, N. J., where he is operating a linotype. At various times during the summer, he has taken week-end trips to Atlantic City, New York, Long Island, and other points of interest.

ST. LOUIS

The social season opened with a meeting of the 500 Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnot on the 26th. Mesdames Cowrick and Harden walked off with the prizes. Refreshments were served.

The Euchre Club, which has been in existence for twenty-three years, met on the evening of the 27th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burgher, for the first game of the season. A good time was had by all the members. Among the winners were Messrs. Berwin and Arnot and Mesdames Cloud and Roper.

The Women's Guild of St. Thomas Mission held its social in the Parish House and in spite of a day of rain that fell far in the night, the crowd that came exceeded expectations. Mrs. Steideman in charge of the game had to quit at eleven, the closing hour. The refreshments were disposed of by Mesdames Brockman, Theurer, Arnot and all had an enjoyable time.

Benson Wittman who was put to sleep two weeks ago by the receiving end of a hold-up man's blackjack, is up again, none the worse for the adventure save a few facial marks. Should there ever be an encore performance, Ben will know better to contribute a few dollars rather than a few weeks in a hospital. Two hold-up men at once is a little too much.

Tony Felicchia, who was the sole delegate of the silent sports to attend the inaugural meet of the new Fairmount Track, that opened the sport of kings, after being banned for twenty years, near this city, on the 26th, put in a good day's work as he came back to town with more money than he started with. Here's hoping with a strong hope that the good luck keeps up.

Mrs. Ed Miller, has left the city, for the simple life in St. Clair Missouri, about sixty miles away. Her health, not being good, she was advised to live out-doors, in a tent where Nature, simple food, quiet rest and freedom from all household cares would bring her back to normal. She expects to remain away at least six months. All her friends wish her success in her plans and hope to see her restored to normality on her return. The two Miller boys have been put in an orphanage, and Ed has wrapped up and stowed away his Lares and Penates and is at present boarding with his parents.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

On September 22d, the Clerc Literary Association was sixty years old and on account of it a little celebration was held on Thursday evening, 24th. Except for a few invited guests, the event was mainly a "family" celebration. Mr. Howard E. Arnold, the President of the Association, presided. After a short introductory address, in which he complimented the Association on passing its sixtieth anniversary, he introduced the Rev. Dr. DuBell, of St. Simeon's P. E. Church, at 9th and Lehigh Avenue, who made a felicitous address. He was followed by Mr. William H. Lipsett, Secretary of the Association, who gave an excellent historical sketch of the Association. Next the Rev. Warren M. Smaltz, Pastor of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, made a complimentary address. The other speakers were Messrs. James S. Reider, William McKinney, T. Lyman Steed, Barton Sensenig, J. A. McIlvaine, Jr., Washington Houston, and John A. Roach. Refreshments, consisting of ice-cream, cake and coffee, were then served to all present and the balance of the evening was spent socially.

While a few other similar societies of the deaf may have been founded prior to the Clerc Literary Association, they are known to have lapsed before attaining a record of continuous existence for threescore years, hence the Clerc Literary Association leads in length of service and existence. Its long life may be said to be largely due to the fostering care bestowed upon it by All Souls' Mission. Although bearing such a close relation, no religious or political condition of membership is imposed, so that the deaf of all creeds may unite in it for moral and intellectual improvement and social enjoyment. As its name implies, it is chiefly a literary society that would also be non-sectarian in kind.

The Bible School at All Souls' will start up again on Sunday, October 4th next.

WILKES BARRE, August 30—Philip Spare, eighteen, of 129 South Sherman Street, was crushed to death by a heavy truck. He was a deaf-mute and was on a vacation from the Philadelphia Institute for the Deaf, where he planned to return on September 15th. He was employed during the vacation by the Goeringer Construction Company's asphalt force.

The annual election officers of the Philadelphia Local Branch, P. S. A. D., took place at its meeting in the Parish House of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, on Saturday evening, 19th of September. The following officers were elected for the term of 1925-26: President, Geo. T. Sanders; Vice-President, Mrs. T. D. Delp; Secretary, Mrs. A. McGhee; Treasurer, Harry F. Smith. A social time followed the election.

Mr. Edward Kaercher, a senior at Gallaudet College, lectured before the Clerc Literary Association on September 10th last. His subject was "Know Philadelphia."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Stevens accompanied Mrs. Ada J. McKeehan, of Carlisle, Pa., on a pleasure trip to Boston, Mass., on September 15th last. They were due to return on the 24th inst., but we have not yet met any of the party.

Mr. F. P. Gibson, of Chicago, is expected to lecture before the Clerc Literary Association on October 15th next.

A basket-ball game, to be followed by a dance in All Souls' Parish House, has been arranged for October 17th. Mr. William J. Walker will have charge of it. It will be for the benefit of All Souls' Church, and admission will be fifty cents.

Mrs. Nancy Morre will be in charge of All Souls' Halloween entertainment on October 31st.

A girl-baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rothmund on September 9th. The child will be christened Hilda May. Both mother and child are doing well. Congratulations.

The Gallaudet Club held its Fall meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Sanders, in Mt. Airy, on Saturday evening, September 26th. Messrs. Sanders, Kepp, Ziegler and Smith, acted as hosts to the Club on this occasion.

On September 20th, All Souls' Church for the Deaf returned to the winter schedule of services, that is at 3:15 P. M. There is no evening service now.

The Capital City.

The homeward march from lake, seashore and mountains, is on. Many deaf absentee residents have returned home to Washington. They are looking forward to autumn and winter activities as summer holidays are closed.

It is understood that the Executive Board of the N. A. D. has approved August 7th to 14th, Monday to Saturday inclusive, as the week for the Washington, D. C., 1926 Convention. It would be glorious to have my Michigan deaf, especially Detroit, attend. Would you start such an excursion to Washington?

You certainly have your leisure, your money and your physical courage. It surely would be a real encouragement to the Washington N. A. D. Convention. And when you returned home after attending the Convention you, no doubt, will naturally talk about your trip and this beautiful Capital City for years to come. Come and see the charm of Washington!

It is worthy for you to visit the Capital City that is always called "A CITY SET IN A FOREST." If you view from the top of its high buildings you see nothing but trees in summer. Do not worry about August weather in Washington, for there are and will always be plenty of ice cream cones. Come and see the Washington Monument that George Washington does not know about.

It will be fine that we can take a few hours both before and after Convention sessions and make the hike to the Potomac River, which is not very far from the Convention Headquarters, and see where George Washington threw the silver dollar across the famous Potomac River years ago, and also the peculiar attraction a certain tree, that stands on a knoll at the White House grounds, has for the birds.

One of the finest developments opened this season is Gallaudet Park, that gets its name from Gallaudet College. Development of the North East Section of Washington, where the beautiful Gallaudet College and Columbia School for the Deaf is located, has advanced with such rapid strides that one viewing it after a year's absence would scarcely be able to recognize the vicinity, so thickly built up.

Mrs. Mary F. Souder, beloved wife of W. P. Souder, was operated on at Casualty Hospital August 13th, for gall bladder, and died Sunday afternoon, August 16th. She was buried at Congressional Cemetery on the 18th. Rev. Mr. A. D. Bryant was wired to come from Connecticut to officiate the funeral rites. He was assisted by President Hall of the College, who interpreted for the hearing relatives.

Both Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bernsdorff recited the hymns. The flower offerings were beautiful. Mary Souder was dearly beloved by all Washington deaf, on account of her sweet and kind disposition. Through the columns of the JOURNAL, the Washington deaf extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband, sisters and family. The pall bearers were Messrs. Roy Stewart, E. E. Hannan, L. Schulte, John Flood, J. Courtney, H. S. Edington and William Lowell.

Mrs. Roy Stewart (Ellen Pearson of Nebraska) was appointed a teacher of the sewing and cooking classes at the Kendall School.

Miss Violet Colby, of Detroit, Michigan, is spending a three weeks vacation with her mother and sister and family here at the Capital City.

Gallaudet College and Kendall School opened Wednesday, Sept. 23d. Coach Hughes sent his foot ball men through a long workout the past week. Their first grind was to meet with Blue Ridges Saturday, October third, at the Kendall Green.

Grand N. A. D. Rally was held at N. E. Masonic Hall, 8th and F Streets, on the other evening. The officers are as follows: President H. J. Pulver; Vice-President, W. E. Marshall; Secretary, W. Souder; Treasurer, Duncan Smoak.

Grandma Edington spent five weeks in June at Kensington, Md., looking after her son Wallace's children till he secured a girl to look after them. Grandma Edington returned home to Washington in time to entertain her visitors from abroad during the months of July and August.

Wallace Edington took his family and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Edington, via auto, to Westminster, Md., to spend the glorious Fourth of July. They went to Gettysburg the following Sunday and spent the night there. The next day they took views of the battlefields and returned home in Kensington that evening. They had a fine trip and fine time. Wallace and wife have a pretty home in Kensington, Md., which they own. Mrs. Edington passed the examination successfully for a permit to drive their auto, after two tests.

June 20th, Boat excursion to Marshall Hall was a success. Many deaf went and had a dandy time. Railroad excursion to Chesapeake Beach on July 30th, given by G. R. O. employees, was also a success. Several deaf were there and they re-forted having the jolliest time of their life.

Duncan Smoak and family rented a house at Chesapeake Beach, Md., to spend July and August. Mrs. Roger Scott was with them. Mr. Smoak and Mr. Scott spent the week-end with them. They returned home before Labor Day, looking hearty and hale and tanned.

During the first week of July, Simon R. Alley and wife motored to Roanoke, Va., in their new Ford Sedan, to spend two weeks visiting relatives and friends.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

XAVIER NOTES.

Business of the X. E. S. started in with a rush. A good omen was the applications of several new members for enrollment in the due-paying ranks. As result of the card party last Spring, Miss Austru accounted for the neat sum of $35.

The treasurer's report, as usual, gave Miss Lamberson a chance to increase her smile with the upward rise in finances. Miss Lamberson remarked the X. E. S. would compare with Gibraltar, did the Catholic deaf show their interest in their fellow Catholics by paying the meagre fee of 25 cents a month, along with other due-paying members.

Success of the Roton Point outing called for congratulations. Chairman Lynch was absent, hibernating in Jersey it was said. He will have his report on it at next Sunday's meeting, however.

The Kieckers, that is Jules and the Missus, followed the bus ride with a jaunt up-State, for a week being guests of Mrs. M. Butler, mother of Mrs. Kieckers, at Auburn. With Brother-in-law Butler's car places of interest within Syracuse, Lakeside, Owassee Lake, Skaneateles, helped to put a good time on the map of the hustling Julius.

Miss Anna Keightley now answers "Present" at X. E. S. meetings, and has promised to corral a number of others among her chums to do likewise.

The Hartford attendants among Ephphatans at the recent unveiling were not in the least backward. Among others there were Syl Fogarty, Thomas Cosgrove, Paul Murtagh, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bernhardt, and the local Ephphatans under the direction of Rev. Father Cavanagh. A good time was the verdict.

Next summer there promises to be a big exodus of X. E. S. adherents to the Capitol, attending the N. A. D. conclave. That President Roberts has any feeling the Ephpheta body are finding fault with the workings of the De l'Epee Statue Committee, does not coincide with the opinions of the large majority. There are a few soreheads and perpetual fault-finders among the Catholic deaf as among other bodies of the class, but the large majority are and have been generously responsive to the workings of Samuel Frankenheim and the Statue Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Borgstrand have returned from their two months vacation. They visited many friends in various cities and in Canada. On September 21st, Mr. Nesgood, the Vice-President of St. Matthew's Lutheran Guild, arranged a surprise party in their honor, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Borgstrand. Only members of the Guild were present. A good time was had. Sandwiches, different layer cakes, coffee, brick ice cream, and candies were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Bloom gave a party for their son, Alexander, on September 26th, to celebrate his fifth birthday. There were sixteen children present, besides many friends and relatives. Among the deaf present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Friedman, Bertha Kranzer, Mrs. Isaac Zwicker and Anna Seide. He received many beautiful gifts.

Mr. Charles Moscovitz, a graduate of Fanwood, whose home is in Austin, Texas, has been in the city for several weeks, taking a course in linotype. Since leaving school about seven years ago, he has been steadily employed as a compositor, down in Texas. His learning linotype is to become extra valued to his employer.

On Saturday afternoon, the George Washington High School football team, of whom Mr. Sam Lowenherz's son is a member, defeated the Flushing High, at Flushing, L. I. Among the deaf who witnessed the game was papa Lowenherz, and Messrs. Weinberger, Timer, Grossinger and Lester Cohen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stoll, who lived on Benson Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., have moved to Bay 25th Street, a private house. Their telephone number is the same as before. Their daughter, Anna, will go to Florida on business in December.

Kelley Stevens, of the new Jersey School, sailed from the Port of New York last week for Italy. He will be there one year, during which time he will study art in Florence.

Miss Lilly M. Mattson, who was a pupil at Fanwood for two years 1909-1911, completed her schooling at Boulder, Mont. She now resides in Helena, Mont.

Marcus Fleming, a graduate of Fanwood, is working in the Seneca Lumber room in Schenectady, N. Y.

Rochester News

In June Miss Doris Meyers, a Rochester School product, graduated from the University of Rochester with honors. Her number of women friends presented her with a beautiful leather hat bag for traveling with their wishes for her success. This fall she is teaching at the Rochester School.

At the closing of the Rochester School, two days' re-union was held by a number of alumni from the western part of the state. Business and pleasure were mixed and all enjoyed the two days at the re-union which had been held annually. Next June the Rochester School will hold its fifty years' anniversary, so will expect the largest crowd of its boys and girls attending the anniversary. At the last re-union Mr. and Mrs. Rozboril, of Michigan, gave everyone a surprise by showing up at the re-union. They were traveling to Northampton, Mass., in their friend's car, when they stopped off here to see their school days friends.

Mr. Clayton McLaughlin, teacher at school, spent his vacation working for a local railroad office at Lincoln Park. Mrs. Askew spent hers at her home in Egypt, N. Y., where she and her youthful husband, the westerner did gardening and traveling in their Ford coupe around the country. Miss Georgiana Smith divided her vacation visiting in Buffalo and Erie, Pa. Miss Sophia Rose spent most her summer vacation remaining in town. All are back at school to take up their duties with much energy after their restful summer.

Many picnics were held at different places and they were well attended by the Rochesterians and everyone always came back having a very pleasant time. Places where the picnics were held as follows: Auburn, Olcott Beach, Point Breeze, South Park, Charlotte Beach, Lackawanna, West Byron, Cohocton, Glen Haven, and Pittsford.

Miss Lotta Shattuck and her parents had a distinguished friend, Mrs. Coleman, the mother of Miss Grace Coleman of Gallaudet College, as well as the widow of the founder of the Florida School for the Deaf, spending her summer vacation with them. She spent most of the time in Cohocton and she spent a few days with Lotta in town. While in town the scribe of this column had the great pleasure of meeting her and they had a long talk of his college and her home down in the south. She left Cohocton shortly before Labor Day for New York to join with her daughter, Grace, who came down there from Washington, D. C., for a brief sojourn before they return to D. C. During the summer we had another distinguished visitor from St. Louis, Mo., Rev. Cloud and his wife spent at least two months visiting with their son, John, who has made his home here last winter. He gave Episcopal services at St. Luke's Church one Sunday and a large crowd of deaf turned out there to meet him. He also showed up at the picnic at Point Breeze for a short time.

Mr. John Roach, of Philadelphia, Pa., came to town and spent two days with his friends Messrs. Lansing and Klock, Jr. A reception was given in his honor at the Todd's charming home on Clove Road during his stay. The boys then took him to Syracuse and Rome, N. Y., in their car and attended the fifty years' anniversary at the Rome School in June.

Mr. Arnold Slater had his two nieces visiting with him for two weeks and he showed them around and gave them good times. He also had his sister, a niece and nephew, visiting with him for a few days recently. He spent a week in Olean, N. Y., in July. He came back unburned and refreshed from his stay on a farm there.

Messrs. Ira Todd and Walter Schwalger spent the week of July 2d, in New York City; the scribe, the week of August 16th, in Boston, Hartford and New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Whyland, the week of August 16th, in Boston and New York City; Claude and Lawrence Samuelson, the week of August 23d, at Jamestown; Floyd DeWitt, the week of September 6th, at Hammondsport and Legrand Klock, the week of September 13th, at Syracuse. Yates Lansing went home to New York for a vacation on September 13th.

Miss Helen Fay, who is a Junior at the University, stayed in town all summer and one week she spent visiting her chum, Miss Agnes Palmgren, of Buffalo, and a day or in Toronto. They enjoyed their brief visit in Toronto very much. Miss Jessie Ramsey, a Senior at the University, spent all her summer vacation in Albion, N. Y. Messrs. Rosner and Merklinger travelled all over the state with the latter's brother who owns a country carnival. From town to town they went and they had their small carnival out of which they made lots of money. They made a good success in their business, and will shortly return to Rochester when the carnival is closed for the winter. Mr. Merklinger will then expect to move to Philadelphia, to make his home there.

Mr. Floyd DeWitt went to Baltimore last June, when he acted as one of his brother's ushers at a fashionable wedding which resulted that his brother was married to a prominent society Baltimore belle. It was Floyd's first trip out of the state since he was born.

Mr. Elmer Wisotzki, who is quite a young man, had secured a fine position as foreman at the Rochester Buttons Company. He had one floor under him, and seems to enjoy his new position very much. He had worked in the button factory for several years long before he went to Lima, to help his brother with farming.

On August 23d, Messrs. Maxson and Shaninsey went to New York on an excursion trip, and they spent all day Sunday in Coney Island, and they returned the same evening as tired as they could be.

Mr. H. Lockwood traded his Chevrolet touring car for a new sedan of the same make. These days he enjoys driving it with much pride. He is making Buffalo his temporary home this fall.

Recently the scribe had a happy surprise by a brief visit from Edward Kaercher, of Philadelphia. He is now a Senior at Gallaudet College. The scribe was very happy to have him, since he is the only Gallaudet fellow living in town. The scribe showed Edward around as much as he could, and Edward left for Watkins Glen, to visit with his sisters after a pleasant visit of a day in town. Come again, Edward!

Mrs. H. C. Merrill and Beatrice went to District of Columbia, to pass a month or so visiting with her married daughter, who has made her home there since moving there from Syracuse last winter. Rev. H. C. Merrill went to New York, to hold the Holy Communion services at the St. Ann's Church in the first week of September. From there he came directly to Rochester, to hold the same at Trinity Church on East Avenue, as the St. Luke's Parish House where the deaf usually had their church services had been razed for another new Parish House which will be finished by Christmas.

On September 8th, Mr. and Mrs. Smith (nee Frances Greif), gave birth to a charming baby daughter. Mr. Smith is having a broad grin these days for being a Dad. Her name has not been learned yet. They will return to their home in Corning, N. Y., as soon as Mrs. Smith is able to do so.

OMAHA.

The Midwest Chapter started the season, Saturday night, September 25th, at Nebraska School, with Mr. and Mrs. Elliot S. Waring as host and hostess. There was a little business transacted. President Mrs. Tom L. Anderson was instructed to send greetings and best wishes for a successful season to the Gallaudet Football team via Coach Hughes. A brief discussion about the E. M. Gallaudet Fund was in order, and then "500" was enjoyed the rest of the evening. There were seven tables, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Mullin won first prizes respectively. This was followed by refreshments consisting of ice-cream, cake and coffee.

The local Frats gave a Hard Times party, Saturday night, September 26th, at Seymour Hall, some forty attending. There were a number of good hard times costumes. Jas. R. Jelinek had the best according to requirements, however, there were no prizes. Mrs. E. Hazel won the box of candy, raffled off, and Charles C. Clark, the box of cigars. Games were played. Ice-cream and cake were served free. The affair was in charge of Ranson H. Arch, Chairman, James Upah, Charles Clark and Robert G. Brown. The next social event on the Frats calendar will be the big Mardi Gras, Saturday night, October 17th, at Sommer's Hall, 28th and Farnam. There will be confetti—serpentine—good music—free "cats"—cash prizes of $5.00 each to the best lady and gent costumes; $3.00 each to the second best, and $1.00 each for the best of boys' and girls' costumes. The crowning of the king and queen of the Mardi Gras will be a special feature. Admission in mask and in costume, 50 cents, and without mask and costume, 75 cents. Come one and all and enjoy No. 32's biggest doings of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hazel entertained about thirty of their friends at a house-warming party in their new modern cottage, on Wednesday evening, September 30th. The guests made a tour of inspection with many favorable comments, and presented the host and hostess with a handsome landscape picture entitled "Sunbeams," in honor of the occasion. Tom L. Anderson made a neat presentation speech. Each one performed a mirth-provoking stunt in a "coo-coo game" and after that silhouettes were thrown on a sheet, half of the guests being required to guess their identities in turn. No one had the least difficulty in identifying Mr. F. W. Booth. There were Mrs. Oscar Treuke and Scott Cascadan, in a simulated embrace, Dr. J. S. Long, as a very old man, Jas. R. Jelinek in the role of a cripple, O. M. Treuke, John J. Marty and Eugene Fry as a bowery girl, an oriental dancer and a Zieffeld Follies girl brought on the laughs. Mrs. Tom L. Anderson proved a good "Mrs. Vanderbilt." Mrs. J. S. Long tried to impersonate a "grandma," Mrs. Ota Blankenship reminded us of the days of "Aunt Dinah," H. G. Long disguised himself as a "hayseed" with a bunch of celery leaves for a beard. A young lady "went fishing" and pulled an electric switch that plunged the house in darkness, just another of Mr. Anderson's tricks, "hazing" Hazels, maybe. They have good reason to be proud of their little home, another dream come true. This is a city of home owners, thank you, and about half a dozen spic and span new modern five-room cottages, have found deaf owners in the last few years. We hope the end is not in sight, not for a long time yet.

The ladies of Walnut Hill Methodist Episcopal Church gave a chicken dinner to some thirty hungry souls, Friday evening, October 2d, at 35 cents per and proved well worth attending.

HAL AND MEL.

IN DIXIELAND.

The long drought has at last been broken, Atlanta has had several good showers within the past ten days, but we still need more rain and plenty of it before the parched earth will be thoroughly drenched.

This town has gone baseball crazy. Everything one hears is baseball and it seems that every man, woman and child who could raise the price of admission went to see the game this week between the Georgia Crackers and Ft. Worth Cats, played for the Dixie championship. The Crackers won the first game of the series and the Cats the second, therefore breaking even. The next game of the series will be played at Ft. Worth Saturday and we are pulling strong for our home team. While we admit that Ft. Worth has a strong team of ball players we are confident that our Crackers will give them a run for the game. Oh, well, here's hoping!

The members of the Nadfrat Club are now actively engaged in pushing a nation-wide campaign for funds with which to build a Club House. They have decided to try their utmost to raise sufficient money by another year, with which to erect a building of their own, because of the exorbitant rents they have to pay in order to secure a hall, or a place to hold meeting or an affair of any kind here. We sincerely trust that all those of our friends receiving one of the clubs circular letters appealing for aid will respond promptly and to the extent of their ability. Unless the deaf in general help each other in such cases, there is but little help to be hoped for elsewhere.

Atlanta deaf have always shown a spirit toward all enterprises for the advancement of the deaf everywhere, and always will respond to calls for help to the limit of their finances.

St. PETERSBURG, FLA.—Facing more serious indictments on charge of robbery and statutory assault, V. T. Browning and E. Morton, recent arrivals in this city, were today sentenced to fines of $50 each and to serve 50 days in jail for disorderly conduct, for enticing two Tampa young women, both deaf-mutes, on an automobile ride, which ended in the girls fleeing from beatings and maltreatment to the protection of the police.

Mary Williams and Cora Parker, whose homes are in Tampa, gave all their testimony in written answers to questions propounded by probation officers acting as interpreting witnesses before Judge W. F. Way, in the municipal court today.

Both men are to be held for the State authorities when they complete their present sentences on the minor charge. Sarasota (Fla.) Times.

Mr. and Mrs. McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mills, at Calhoun, Ga. They report the Mills nicely settled in their new home, with everything new and up-to-date. It is a queer coincidence that Mrs. Mills name before her first marriage was Bessie-Mills, then she became Bessie Weaver and now it is Bessie Mills again. Is there anything in a name?

Hallowe'en will be celebrated here with a beautiful mask party. There will be witches, goblins and black cats galore. Handsome prizes will be given for the most unique costume.

A great cauldron will be placed in the center of the hall, where a witch will use a pitchfork to dish up many and varied things, including live black cats. Another witch will mount on her broom and ride away. The party is going to be the biggest event of its kind ever attempted in Atlanta. All kinds of games appropriate to Hallowe'en will be played and prizes awarded. We strongly advise every deaf person far and near, who is able to do so, to attend, they will certainly receive their money's worth. The affair will be staged under auspices of the Nadfrat Woman's Club, benefit of their building fund.

Walter Christian, Horace Sanders and Mr. Gordy, are planning to immigrate to Florida soon in search of employment. We strongly advise these young men, and everyone else unless they have plenty of money and are willing to spend it, to stay away from that State. The entire State of Florida is already overrun with "job seekers" and the cost of living down there is steadily mounting skyward. A man without a job or plenty of money will find himself in an unpleasant predicament when their cash gives out. If one has sufficient money to invest in real estate speculation well and good, otherwise not.

Mrs. Willingham, of Statham, Ga., is in the city visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willingham, where she will remain for several weeks.

Miss Margaret Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Rogers and a niece of Mrs. C. L. Jackson, has returned from a three-months tour of Europe. She visited almost every foreign country while overseas.

Mr. Herbert Williams, he of various and sundry jobs, has gone to become an artist in that line.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willingham and party of friends recently made a pleasant week-end visit to Tallulah Falls, to see the great dam that the Georgia Railway and Power Company has just completed at Lake-meet near Tallulah Falls. They say that the Power Company has done a wonderful work up there in the mountains of North Georgia, in harnessing the water in great reservoirs to supply light and power to Atlanta and many surrounding cities and towns.

After a two-months vacation spent here at home getting moved into and settled in his new home, the Rev. S. M. Freeman has resumed his charge and there will now be regular services at St. Mark's throughout the fall and winter, Providence permitting.

ATLANTA, Sept. 25, 1925.

DETROIT.

The Detroit Association of the Catholic Deaf held their business meeting Sunday, September 20th. This growing organization holds its business meeting every three months.

The officers are J. J. Hellers, President; Fred Bourcier, Treasurer. The other officers' names I failed to get. The organization's object is like any other: for good fellowship and social gatherings. At present its aim is to collect sufficient money to build a club house. The club house fund shows that their project will soon be realized. Father Kauffman, who is in charge of the Catholics, and is doing all he can to assist this, is beloved and respected by every member.

October 25th, will be the tenth year of the association's activity. On this anniversary the Catholic deaf intend to make the occasion of the most elaborate celebrations in the annals of the Catholic deaf.

Not to be outdone by his numerous friends, Fred Bourcier has purchased a new touring car. Fred and his wife made a trip in the new car to Alma, St. Louis, and East Saginaw to visit friends. While in Saginaw, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brownrigg.

Wm. E. Sloan writes friends that he will be in Detroit soon to renew old acquaintances. Mr. Sloan was for several years a resident of Monroe, Mich. He had an extensive business as a cigar manufacturer, both retail and wholesale. Bad eye-sight and failing health compelled him to sell out and retire. He is now living on a farm in Ohio. Mr. Sloan was one of the late Prof. Graham Bell's first oral pupils and retained his friendship until Mr. Bell's death.

Because of the neglect and delay of the landlord to repair a gas exhaust pipe in the basement, the whole Ryan family came near being among those who are "Gone but not forgotten." Wednesday night one of the family forgot to turn off the gas stove that heats the water in the basement. A few hours later, Mrs. Ryan was aroused by her little son, Billy, who was vomiting blood. Then she went to the basement door and the gas fumes nearly suffocated her. However, with self control, she managed to open the door and windows and then crawl down in the basement to turn off the gas.

Carl Pert, a Dodge Bros. employee, is now the proud owner of a 1925 Ford model. It is a coupe, which goes to show it was bought mainly for himself and wife.

Miss Francis Pewter, one of Detroit's pretty lasses, is working for a Photo Supply Company on photo prints. She is a weekly visitor at the D. A. D. She has an invalid sister, named Lillian, who is compelled to stay home on account of her misfortune, but is happy just the same.

Miss Selma Schmidt, formerly of Flint, is now a permanent resident of Detroit. She has secured steady work at the Palace Model Laundry. She is boarding with her brother and cousin.

Miss Bessie Cave, a graduate of the Belleville, Ont., school, is now a Detroit. She secured a good job at the Finch Overall factory, where Mr. W. M. Rheiner is one of the big guns.

John J. Hellers has been treasurer of the D. A. D. for three years. He is one of the club's standbys, although he has passed his 50th year. He still reads and does his work without wearing glasses. He is an employee at the Cadillac Motor Co., at wages that puts the Ford pay envelope in the shade.

The Royal Oak Deaf-Mute Shooting Club has just blossomed out. In the first try-out, Crysos Osman made 36 hits out of 50. Chas. Poran came second. The members are going to the St. Clair Flats to try their luck on real live ducks in a week.

F. E. RYAN

BALTIMORE.

Rev. G. F. Flick and his wife (nee Miss Rouse) were telegraphed to come to Baltimore at once. Upon arriving, they found Mr. W. C. Rouse dead.

Funeral services for William Chapman Rouse was held at his home, 1118 St. Paul Street. Burial was in Druid Ridge Cemetery.

Mr. Rouse was a founder of the firm of Rouse, Hempstone and Company, Inc., jobbers. He, who was 76 years old, died last week at his summer residence, Roland Park, from pneumonia, which developed from a cold he contracted a week before his death. Mr. Rouse was well-known in commercial circles in Baltimore for more than fifty years. For many years he was a director of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, Merchants National Bank, a member of the Executive Board of the Hospital for Women of Maryland and president of the Board of Trustees of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church.

Besides his widow and son, Mr. Rouse is survived by five daughters, Mrs. G. F. Flick, Mrs. C. S. Gore, Mrs. Samuel James, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Gerard Willse.

The Chicken Supper and Bazaar held by the Baltimore Division on Sept. 19th, was a big success, both in patronage and in financial returns, both of whom were greatly appreciated. The money raised is intended for the Hall fund. Those who took charge of the affairs, were Messrs. R. Shultz, Ray Kauffman, H. C. Leitch, H. Mille, John Foxwell, and Mrs. Bomhoff and Mrs. A. Kauffman.

Mr. George M. Leitner is a busy man, and he is not any richer than the average. Yet scores of deaf-mutes all over the country persist in writing him for information regarding the Johns Hopkins Hospital, etc., and never thinking of enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, even a stamp for reply. Not a stamp sent, they had nerve to ask him to go down in his jeans for it—a rank imposition. If it was only one or two, he would be glad to answer, but when it comes to a matter of a few score it is another question. The latest patient, Mr. Louis Arnovitz, formerly of this city, now of Kentucky, is in this city under the care of Johns Hopkins Hospital. His trouble is "Stomach." He had several X-ray examinations.

The young deaf-mutes have organized an independent bowling team. Abe Stern was selected to manage, and Coffey to captain the young hopeful. While they do not expect to play in any of the City Leagues this season, as they can obtain a lot of entertainment out of match games.

Baltimore milk dealers at a conference with producers, a greed to pay the producers one cent more a gallon for milk containing four per cent butter fat, beginning October 1st. Mr. John Ayres, of White Hall, is glad of the increase. He has a large flock of cows.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Thies and daughter moved back to their winter home from their summer house in Severn Park. Mr. Thies says "Glad of it," for he does not like the idea of getting up so early in the morning to catch the train for Baltimore every day.

Mr. Harry Reamy has placed his house on the market for sale. When he sells it, he will probably purchase another place in the country to open his poultry business.

Charles Wells, a deaf-mute negro, is held at the Western Police Station, charged with killing Walters Sharpless, colored. Dr. George Blade, Coroner, investigating. Wells is said to have stabbed him in the heart with a penknife, in an argument which started over a card game, early Wednesday at the house, where he boarded.

Miss Helen Skinner enjoys the work that is allotted to her at McCawley Co., and is paid good wages.

Mr. Uriah Shockley has been batching by himself during the absence of his wife, on her visit to her parents down the bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Oberlander entered their baby in the Better Conference at the Fairfield Fair. They prize their baby because they raised it when it was born, which was as small as of milk. The baby weighs fourteen pounds, aged 14 months.

Mrs. L. Selbach gave a birthday party in honor of her brother, Geo. A. Barou at her house. Conversation and story telling enlivened the evening which was wound up with ice cream and cakes. Besides Miss Selbach, Mr. Selbach, there were present, Mr. and Mrs. G. Werner, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mills, Mr. add Mrs. H. Oberlander, Mrs. D. Watson, Mrs. I. Morgan and others.

Mr. George Barou is sixty-three years old. Our favorite—teasing him by shouting, to find out who he accuses. He is a jolly fellow. While Rev. O. J. Whildin was up to Cumberland, Rev. G. F. Flick, of Chicago, was welcomed to give an address before a large audience of mutes at Grace and St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. Ray Kauffman recently appeared in our midst with the latest "Bob." The married boys are all of one opinion—it sure does look nifty. Why not you, Mrs. A. Feast, Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. W. Hokeymer and others?

Mrs. Annie Trundle and Miss Sarges called to see Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Leitner on their way to Boonsboro, to break up Miss Sarges' home. Recently she lost her brother, who died some time ago. Miss Sarges will live in Frederick, where she will not be lonesome.

Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Whildin tendered their friends and parishioners a reception on the evening of September 25th. A good crowd was there, playing all kinds of games.

SEATTLE.

Mrs. Lillie Corey was married to Mr. John Woodson Burgett at 7:30 P.M., September 23d, at the home of the Hansons. In inference to the wishes of the bride, the wedding was very private. The rooms were decorated with palms and varicolored asters and dahlias. The ceremony was performed under a laurel arch, Dr. Hanson officiating. Dr. MacLaughlan, of St. Mark's, was present by invitation, and pronounced the final benediction, but did not don vestments. Helen Hanson played a wedding march, Roy Harris was bestman, and L. O. Christenson gave away the bride, a role he has taken at several other weddings. The service was beautiful, and at its conclusion congratulations were showered on the newly-weds. In the dining room the table decorations were in orange, the center piece a cluster of marigolds and orange candles. The refreshments were so abundant that the half-dozen university girls rooming in the house were invited down to help demolish them. Mr. and Mrs. Burgett will remain in Seattle for a few days, and on Sunday evening, they will hold open house at the Hanson home to the deaf of the city, and while here they will be the guests of Roy Harris. They leave Sunday evening for their home in Tacoma. At the wedding, Mrs. Victoria Smith assisted Mrs. Hanson in serving.

While we were visiting at the Bodley home on Sunday, the 13th, we were surprised by a visit from Mrs. Ethel Swangren, who was in town for the day, and leaving for Minnesota on an evening train. She came west at the call of her mother, who was sick. Then, when she was better, Ethel came to Seattle intending to visit a few days. But a telegram came from Minnesota calling her at once to work in one of the railway depots. [Ethel was looking very fine, and passing years have dealt with her lightly. We were sorry her visit was so short.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell and Mr. Christenson recently visited Mrs. Brazelton, at Arlington, in Gerald's car, and found her suffering from rheumatism in both feet and hands. Mrs. Gustin, who is making her a long visit, was helping her with the fall canning.

The Golden Rule Sewing Club had a busy session at the home of Mrs. John Bodley on September 17th. Final arrangements were made for a bazaar, to be held at 84th Street and Greenwood Avenue in a Presbyterian Church, which was kindly placed at the disposal of the Club. Miss Clara Allen, Mrs. Smith's sister; and her friend, Mrs. Wallace, will have charge of the refreshments. Fancy work, jellies, candy, and so forth, will be on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams visited the brother of the former, a doctor, in the vicinity of Wenatchee, over the week-end of Labor Day. They then went on to that burg and there met Roy Harris, who was visiting his son Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brinkman have sold the house of the latter on Cascadia Street at a good price, and with that off their minds are no longer hindered in their plans of going to Wenatchee over the apple season. Congratulations.

Sam Abrahamson worked on the Congdon ranch in Yakima for seven weeks, and made good money. It is the same ranch where Jerry Stewart has such a good position. It is very large, covering a thousand acres, and employs two or three hundred men. Sam was robbed of a good suit while there, but the foreman of the ranch reimbursed him for his loss. Sam will return to school in Vancouver if the crowded condition of the buildings will afford him room.

The Gallaudet Guild expects to get busy soon, starting off with a bazaar in October. After that there will be a series of monthly card parties, the first one being held with Alice Wilberg in November.

L. O. Christenson has been rushed lately with a run of jobs, that he has had to employ help.

Marion Hanson recently spent her vacation in Southern California, spending most of her time with a school friend in Los Angeles, and visiting Hollywood and other sight-seers' meccas. At Long Beach she tried to swim in the breakers, and she also went down into Mexico to Tia Juana. Alice, who is tired and will rest from school for a year, will join her in Oakland soon, and the sisters will be in Seattle to celebrate Christmas with their family.

Mr. Bertram recently underwent an operation for varicose veins, and had fifteen inches of vein removed from his leg. He is much relieved and back at work again.

THE HANSONS.

On Tuesday, the 29th of September, the Jewish pupils returned to school, after having honored their holiday, Yom Kippur, which is the day of atonement.

Mr. Harold Yager, a Fanwood graduate, made a short visit at the JOURNAL office. He rejoiced to see the new cylinder press, a proof press and two linotypes.

Messrs. Daniel Fox, Joseph Krassner, John Whatley and Charles Knobloch, all Fanwood graduates, were visitors here last Saturday. They witnessed our baseball game.

Mrs. Putsche with her two children, accompanied by Mrs. Isaac B. Gardner here on the 29th of September.

On the 27th of September, the pupils, in the chapel, listened to a lecture given by Prof. Burdick. His subject was "Diligence."

"ED." AND "WM."

Halt Leap to Death
A district court prisoner dove head first through a seventh-story window of the city hall. All that saved him from the fall was the fact that he was not able to clear the sill entirely.

His head and shoulders crashed through the glass and he landed on his stomach on the sill. He started to wriggle the rest of the way, but two deputies seized his legs and dragged him back.

The man is Ora Norton, 24, deaf and dumb, Elk City, Kan. Just before attempting his leap to death he had been sentenced to three months in the house of correction, after admitting to Judge George E. Page that he had issued six fraudulent checks totaling $150. He was taken to the bull pen and the attention of everyone was turned to the next prisoner.

Norton stepped out the bull pen door and dove through the window at the northwest corner of the courtroom. The crash caused everyone to turn. Norton was half out the window when Deputies Charles Harrington and Walter Olchewski pulled him back. He was badly cut about the head. He was taken to Emergency hospital.

In Norton's pocket was found a letter he had written to the judge just before being taken into court. In it he said he wanted a chance to work and pay the bad checks. He said he would kill himself if sent to jail.—Milwaukee Journal, June 1925.
